

XM Radio is the very best thing that has happened radio in years. For those of us who spend long ours behind the wheel it helps keep us alert. As a lot of areas have very poor radio reception. It also heps in safety in that we don't have to keep looking for a station, therfore we concentrate better on driving. The traffic and weather program is the best thing ever. I only hope that it will eventually be expanded to cover even more areas. We always hear of wanting to improve highway safety and messing with the radio is proven to be a major distraction. This fact alone is more than reason to support xm radio.
